Introduction

The Access to Information Act (ATIA – the Act) gives Canadians the broad legal right to information contained in federal government records.

The Act provides government institutions with 30 days to respond to access requests. Additional time may be granted if there are many records to examine, other government agencies to be consulted, or third parties to be notified. Access rights are subject to specific and limited exemptions.

This annual report to Parliament is submitted by the Public Sector Integrity Commissioner of Canada (the Commissioner) pursuant to section 72 of the ATIA. On April 15, 2007, the Public Servants Disclosure Protection Act (PSDPA) came into force. It created the Office of the Public Sector Integrity Commissioner of Canada (the Office). The new legislation replaced the Treasury Board Policy on the Internal Disclosure of Information Concerning Wrongdoing in the Workplace.

The Office is mandated to establish a safe, independent and confidential process for public servants and members of the public to disclose potential wrongdoing in the federal public sector. The Office also deals with reprisal complaints from public servants coming from their disclosures or their participation in related investigations.

The Commissioner is an independent Agent of Parliament.

Description of the institution's structure

The Access to Information and Privacy (ATIP) Coordinator is the only employee dedicated, on a part-time basis, to fulfil the Access to Information Act responsibilities. The ATIP Coordinator is assisted by a contractor for the processing of the requests, for training and education, and for reporting activities.

Delegation

The Commissioner, as the head of the government institution, has designated, pursuant to section 73 of the ATIA, the persons holding the positions set out in the delegation order, or the persons occupying on an acting basis those positions, to exercise the powers, duties or functions of the Commissioner as specified therein. A copy of the delegation order is included in Appendix A for the designated ATIP Coordinator.

Interpretation of the annual statistical report

Appendix B provides a statistical report on the ATIA applications processed by the Office between April 1, 2024, and March 31, 2025.

One formal request was received by email and closed during this reporting period. Of the 224 pages processed, 102 pages were released for this request. The request was processed within the legal timeframe and only section 16.4(1) was required to be applied. The request originated from the Public.

No informal request was received and closed during this reporting period.

No application fee was collected for the request received and no translations were required to respond to the request.

No request of a vexatious, bad faith or abusive of right nature was received.

Two consultations consisting of 7 pages in total were received from other federal government institutions and processed within the allocated timeframe. No exemptions were recommended to be applied under the ATIA. No consultation requests were received from other sources including consultations on Cabinet Confidences.

No Notice of Intention to Investigate (section 32) was received from the Office of the Information Commissioner and none for judiciary recourse.

The Office spent some $10.400 in resources administering the ATIA.

Table 1 – Five-year trend of access requests

*Total requests processed includes any requests carried over from previous reporting periods.

Interpretation of the supplemental statistical report

Appendix C provides an additional statistical report on the processing of requests by the Office between April 1, 2024, and March 31, 2025.

Education and training activities

One formal briefing session covering the provisions of the ATIA was delivered to PSIC employees as a group during this reporting period. Advice was also provided on an individual basis as required.

Overview of new or revised institutional policies and procedures

No new or revised institutional policies or procedures were implemented during this reporting period which would have had an impact on access to information.

Key issues relating to access to information complaints and/or investigations

No complaint was received from the Office of the Information Commissioner during this reporting period.

Time monitoring for processing access to information requests

The Office continues to experience a low volume of formal access to information requests, which is consistent with its specialized mandate and the proactive disclosure of key information on its website. By tracking this manually, on a case-by-case basis, this approach succeeds in assisting the Access to Information and Privacy Coordinator, as well as the contractor, dedicated to this function in monitoring timelines to ensure compliance with the legislated deadlines.

While the number of requests remains minimal, the Office remains committed to maintaining full compliance with the Access to Information Act and ensuring readiness to respond to any increase in demand. Continuous improvement efforts include monitoring best practices across government institutions and maintaining internal awareness of legislative and policy developments.

Looking ahead, the Office will focus on the following priorities to address this approach as well as strengthen its access to information program:

- Enhanced Training: In addition to the annual training session, explore e-learning options to ensure all employees remain informed of their obligations under the Access to Information Act.
- Digital Readiness: Assess the feasibility of implementing a case management system should request volumes increase, to ensure timely and accurate processing.
- Policy Review: Conduct an internal review of ATIP-related procedures on a biennial basis to confirm alignment with Treasury Board Secretariat guidance and evolving best practices.
- Accessibility Compliance: Ensure that all published reports, including appendices, meet accessibility standards (e.g., Web Content Accessibility Guidelines version 2.1) by providing text-based tables and alternative text for images, where feasible.
